

The Dying Earth 1 Jack

The Dying Earth is the first of Jack Vance's Tales of the Dying Earth and contains six somewhat overlapping stories all set in the future when the sun is red and dim, much technology has been lost, and most of humanity has died out.

The Dying Earth (The Dying Earth, #1) by Jack Vance

Dying Earth is a fantasy series by the American author Jack Vance, comprising four books originally published from 1950 to 1984. Some have been called picaresque. They vary from short story collections to a fix-up, perhaps all the way to novel. The first book in the series, The Dying Earth, was ranked number 16 of 33 "All Time Best Fantasy Novels" by Locus in 1987, based on a poll of subscribers, although it was marketed as a collection and the Internet Speculative Fiction Database calls it a "I Tales of the Dying Earth is fantastic. It is divided into four parts: The Dying Earth, The Eyes of the Overworld, Cugel's Saga and Rhalto The Marvellous. All of the tales take place in a far-off future Earth in which the sun is dying, and in which the earth's population has dwindled. Magic is the rule of the day.

Dying Earth Roleplaying is fast, fun and funny. It's also magical. And dangerous, scary and well, different. Robin D Laws custom-made its simple mechanics to produce the feel of Jack Vance's classic novels. There's risky combat, of course, but there's persuasion, trickery, seduction and deadly sorcery.

"Tales of the Dying Earth" is a great series of books by Jack Vance. Set in a time so distant from ours, the sun is a dull red ball in a dark sky, futuristic cities are half-buried mounds of ancient rubble, and magic is as natural as walking. These four books are generally regarded as fantasy, but it has elements of science fiction as well.
