Project Mars is an interesting science fiction story. Written by Von Braun in German in 1950, while he was at Fort Bliss, Texas for the Army, it tells the tale of a manned Mars expedition. Interestingly, it is one of the few science fiction novels I have read with a 65 page technical appendix of equations.

The Mars Project. Today von Braun is recognized as the person most responsible for laying the groundwork for public acceptance of America's space program. When President Bush directed NASA in 1989 to prepare plans for an orbiting space station, lunar research bases, and human exploration of Mars, he was largely echoing what von Braun proposed in The Mars Project.
